

NARR Standard 3.0

NARR was founded in 2011 by a group of organizations and individuals with vast experience in recovery housing from across the country. From the beginning, NARR has been committed to developing and maintaining a national standard for all levels of recovery housing. The term “recovery residence” denotes safe and healthy residential environments in which skills vital for sustaining recovery are learned and practiced in a home-like setting, based on Social Model principles. The Social Model is fundamental to all levels of recovery residences. Social Model philosophy promotes norms that reinforce healthy living skills and associated values, attitudes, and connection with self and community for sustaining recovery. NARR Standard 3.0 operationalizes the Social Model across four Domains, 10 Principles, 31 Standards and their individual rules. The Standard is tailored to each of NARR’s four levels. Version 3 of the NARR Standard does not introduce any operational rules that are not already included in Version 2. Rather, it restates them in a more logical way that improves clarity and eliminates some redundant language.

Purpose: The intent of the Missouri Coalition of Recovery Support Providers, MCRSP, and Recovery Housing Quality Standards Peer Review Process is to ascertain that the recovery housing at the indicated location meets minimum quality standards adopted by MCRSP and approved by the National Alliance for Recovery Residences. A MCRSP review team is to utilize this form to conduct their survey of the residence(s).

Process: Once the application for accreditation is approved and the required fees have been received, a review team will be assigned. The MCRSP Housing Director will schedule an on-site visit and provide the application and required documents to the lead and co-reviewers. The lead and co-reviewers are to review the application and required documentation prior to the on-site visit. This form is based on the MCRSP Housing Quality Standards, which identify areas for quality review. Each variable is to be assessed using the following scale:

1- Not Acceptable 2- Needs Improvement 3- Acceptable

1. Not Acceptable- If there are any items scored “1 - Not Acceptable,” the home fails the MCRSP minimum housing quality standards. The reviewer will then discuss with the owner/designated individual the repairs noted that would be necessary to bring the home up to the standard. Once the home is up to standards the lead will contact the reviewer to reschedule for a site visit. Photographic evidence may be used instead of another site visit, depending on the deficiency.
2. Needs Improvement – Items scored with a “2 – Needs Improvement,” the reviewer will discuss with the owner or designated contact the recommendations (this rating does not prevent you from receiving your MCRSP accreditation). Once these recommendations are completed, either via submitted documentation or pictures to reviewers to verify corrections have been made or a subsequent on-site visit, the rating will be changed to Acceptable.
3. Acceptable- If no items are scored as a “1 - Not Acceptable” nor “2 - Needs Improvement,” the house passes the minimum MCRSP housing quality standards and will need no further review.

After completion of the site review, the lead reviewer submits this checklist with written comments and a recommendation with justification to accredit or not to accredit to the MCRSP Housing Task Force Chair and Chairperson of MCRSP. The co-reviewer is to submit a written summary comment regarding the inspection for inclusion in the report. Peer reviewers must document concerns for any items receiving a ranking of 1 or 2 and make Quality Improvement Recommendations (QIR) for these items. QIRs will be based on the MCRSP quality standards and recommendations from literature and emerging best practices. Verification of any required QIRs must be noted in the report. The Chair of the MCRSP Housing Task Force and Chairperson of MCRSP must review recommendations, and a site cannot be publicized as in good standing with MCRSP until written notification of good standing is provided by MCRSP. This standing is evaluated regularly and can be revoked by MCRSP.
