

Recovery Housing Grievance Policy

Recovery Housing Grievance Policy

1. The Missouri Coalition of Recovery Support Providers, MCRSP, recognizes the importance of a formalized complaint resolution and grievance process. This process supports recovery and helps to better ensure equitable treatment of all residents and accountability for all accredited recovery houses in Missouri.
2. MCRSP encourages all complaints and grievances to be addressed at the lowest and most direct level possible. However, concerns or complaints may be addressed either informally or formally.
3. MCRSP requires all accredited recovery homes to advise all residents at orientation of their rights and how to file a grievance.
4. Those attempting to resolve a concern or complain should not be threatened, penalized nor have services negatively affected or otherwise be retaliated against as a result.
5. Residents of an accredited MCRSP Recovery House, if dissatisfied with the grievance resolution obtained through the recovery housing grievance process, have a right to file a written appeal of their grievance resolution to the MCRSP Housing Director, as outlined in the proceeding procedure.
6. Neighbors, community members and other stakeholders of accredited MCRSP Recovery Houses who have a legitimate issue with the operations or conduct of an accredited house may file a complaint with the MCRSP Housing Director.
7. Recovery Housing applicants for MCRSP Accreditation have the right to appeal any decision regarding their application or subsequent action by the MCRSP Housing Director with the MCRSP Board of Directors.
